4. Arrival in Germany

Closest Airport

- Düsseldorf International Airport (DUS)
- Approx. 30 minutes to Oberhausen

5. Transport Options from Airport to Oberhausen

OPTION A: Public Transport (Best Value)

Total Estimated Cost: ~€9–€10
Total Time: 30–60 minutes

Step-by-Step Guide:

1. Follow signs to: Baggage claim → Exit → Flughafen Bahnhof (Airport Train Station)

2. Take the SkyTrain to Düsseldorf Flughafen station

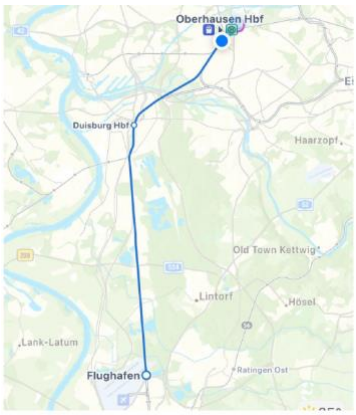
3. Purchase your ticket inside the station. They speak English, so just tell them where you are going (Neue Mitte Station or Rudolf Weber Arena). Cost: €7.

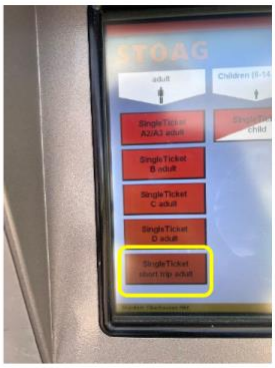
4. The ticket assistant will tell you which platform to catch your train to Oberhausen. IMPORTANT: Validate your ticket before boarding. The machine to do that is situated within the terminal before you go on the platform.

5. Take the train. Make sure you get on the correct train and the time provided by the train assistant. From Düsseldorf Flughafen to Oberhausen, there are just 2 stops.



6. Get off at Oberhausen Hbf and follow the signs to the tram/bus

7. At the tram platform, purchase your tram ticket from one of the service machines. The self-ticket machine displays in English, and the highlighted option is the one you buy. It cost 2.10 euros.



8. Board any tram/bus from Platform 1, and they all stop at Ruldorf Weber Arena. It doesn't matter what mode of transport you use, it's just 3 stops to the conference venue.

9. Stop at Neue Mitte

10. Walk to Arena (less than 1 minute)

OPTION B: Taxi / Uber

- Cost: approx. €60
- Faster and more convenient. Can be shared among groups.
